

FACILITATOR PRACTICE GROUP

May 2027 - April 2028

A closed group - 12 participants, 12 months, 6 modules, 12 days of practice, practice, practice...

Led by Lynn Stoney and Nicky Moss

PURPOSE OF THIS PROGRAMME

Practice, practice, practice...

This 12-month programme provides a supportive practice space to people dedicated to becoming really good quality facilitators, whatever the scale of their work (large or small), and whatever the area of their practice, building confidence in working in the areas of personal and family systems when they arise, e.g. within an organisational or business coaching context, and how to work safely with trauma when encountered.

FOR WHOM

This offer has been created in response to the requests of many newly qualified practitioners, those with some experience but who have lacked the confidence to begin their practice and those who want to receive feedback on their newly-established practice.

For practitioners or aspiring practitioners, those who are focussing on personal and family work, or who may have come through organisational training and whose coaching practice requires them to work systemically and respond to personal issues that arise in a work context.

ASSUMED / PRE-REQUISITE

Foundational training in systemic work with Lynn via Systemic Consciousness, the Family Constellation Intensive, or equivalent training.

A good grasp of the foundational principles in personal and family aspects, based on the work of Bert Hellinger.

Commitment to all sessions out of respect for the whole group

WHAT TO EXPECT

Each participant will have the opportunity to:

- Facilitate 1:1 work in different ways as suits private coaching practices
- Facilitate small and half group constellations
- Facilitate at least one whole group constellation (with support if wanted, and this is an optional choice)
- A session devoted to designing and using systemic ritual in different settings
- A session devoted to systemic supervision with visiting supervisors.

Each day will have a short, focussed input of practical pointers that supports facilitation, e.g. the initial interview, working online vs in person, when not to constellate.

Each day will be completed with a plenary session to reflect and consolidate what has been learned.

HOW YOU WILL BENEFIT

- Practice facilitation skills in a safe environment
- Gain confidence in facilitating real life topics in 1:1, small group and whole group constellations, and ability to work effectively and responsibly, knowing your limits
- Receive feedback on your facilitation and learning edges from peers and supervisors
- Further develop your facilitator stance and ethical practice
- Practice navigating unknown situations, manage boundaries and ensure safety for the client and the group
- Deepen your understanding of the foundational principles in their application
- Learn from the collective intelligence of the group
- Connect and learn from and with peers during this programme and beyond
- As each participant also brings topics to be constellated, your own personal work will also be attended to during these sessions, which is good professional practice
- This is a CPD offering

This programme is a springboard for participants to form their own ongoing peer practice, supervision and intervision groups, which is also part of good professional practice.
